1. North of the Clyde and up Loch Lom-ond - side I'll Firth of Lorne will wel-come me next morn And I'll I'll head west to the isle that I love best, To a head for Cri - an - lar - ich and Dal - mal - ly Glen. For trav - el by Loch Lin - nie till I reach its end. Where hun - dred thous - and wel - comes when I reach the end. Wher - man - y a mile the high peaks o' Ar - gyll, When I tow'r - ing high, Ben Nev - is meets the sky, When I e'er I roam the road will take me home, When I take the love - ly, wind-ing, High-land Road a - gain. Chorus. From Loch take the love - ly, wind-ing, High-land Road a - gain.

take the love - ly, wind-ing, High-land Road a - gain.

Lom-ond through Glen - coe to the High-lands I will go Past the shiel - ing in the clach - an by the lone - ly glen. The green isles of the sea they beck - on still to me When I take the love - ly, wind-ing, High-land Road a - gain. 2. The gain.
